Diseased Bladder and Kidneys for Twenty Years.

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

Dear Sir—I have been troubled with my bladder and kidneys for the last 20 years having doctoring with many different physicians in that time, with no results. I was told to try a bottle of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure, which I did and which is the only medicine that ever gave me relief. I am 71 years old and am in the best of health today. I will heartily recommend Dr. Fenner's Remedy to any one suffering from their bladder or kidneys. Besides it is not a mean dose but pleasant to take.

NEGRO GIRL WAS DROWNED

PETVENALA DAVIS FELL FROM MUSCOGEE WHARF, WHEN SENT AFTER WATER.

Petvenala Davis, colored, about twelve years of age, was drowned yesterday, shortly after the noon hour. She fell from Muscogee wharf, and as no one witnessed the accident, drowned within a short time.

The girl was the adopted daughter of Agnes Benders, residing at the corner of Chase street and Eleventh avenue. The girl had been sent to the end of Muscogee wharf for a bucket of water. She did not return within a reasonable time and a search was instituted. The hat which she wore when she left home was seen floating about the bay and a number of persons began to drag about the end of the wharf with fish hooks for the body. The latter was discovered about 3 o'clock in the afternoon in about 27 feet of water.

Coroner Landrum viewed the body and gave a decision in accordance with the facts.

URGING STATUE OF MALLORY

MOVEMENT TO HAVE IT PLACED IN STATUARY HALL AGAIN
BEING REVIVED.

The movement to place the statue of Senator S. R. Mallory, father of Senator Mallory, of this city, in statuary hall, is again being revived and is meeting with favor all over the state, and from the outlook it is probable that the next legislature will take steps to have the plan carried out.

At the last meeting of the legislature a bill was introduced by Robert McNamee with this end in view, but it failed to pass. This year it is believed that it will pass. Speaking of the matter the Leesburg Commercial says:

"Kansas has presented to the government a statue of John J. Ingalls, which was recently placed in statuary hall with appropriate ceremonies. Two years ago the Palatka Times-Herald proposed that Florida pay a like tribute to the memory of Senator S. R. Mallory, who represented this state in the senate before the war, and was subsequently Secretary of the Confederate navy. The suggestion was indorsed by the state press and aroused great interest at the time, and while a bill to that effect was introduced in the legislature owing to the closing hours of the session it did not pass. The late Senator Mallory was the foremost figure in our history, and we trust the next legislature may complete the work so gracefully inaugurated by our Palatka contemporary."

The Palatka Times-Herald, one of the first papers to agitate the question, says:

"When we inaugurated the movement as above described, we believed that the patriotism of the Florida solons would overcome their petty differences, and that an appropriation would be forthcoming. That the good people of the state indorsed the movement was attested by the unanimity with which the suggestion was received by the press. Every paper of recognized standing came out boldly in its advocacy. The Confederate veterans with one accord also gave it their hearty indorsement."

"The bill looking to an appropriation for the erection of the monument was introduced by the Hon. Robt. McNamee, but the members of the house were lacking in the true spirit of patriotism, and the measure was killed. Mr. McNamee, though born in Pennsylvania, thus took more pride in seeking to honor the memory of the noble Southerner—the state's foremost character—than did the native Floridians. The measure was defeated through the instrumentality of certain members who knew not the meaning of patriotism, and who viewed the situation from a monetary standpoint. We regret to state that oftentimes would-be 'treasure watch-dogs' in their efforts to 'economize' are not only 'penny-wise-pound-foolish,' but they disregard the expressed wishes of their constituents."

"The movement we inaugurated will some day come up for consideration before the legislature composed of men of more patriotic bend, and an appropriation will be made for a statue in keeping with the high regard in which the lamented Mallory will ever be held by the loyal citizens of Florida."

TITANIC STRUGGLE FOR POSSESSION OF MUKDEN.

General Kuropatkin is still open. The losses already exceed those of any battle of the war.

The fanaticism displayed by the Japanese is shown in an instance mentioned by a Russian correspondent who describes how a captured Japanese broke away from his captors and threw himself head forward into a Chinese well.

While the defeat of Kuropatkin has revived the talk of peace, it is too early yet to measure its full effect. If Kuropatkin succeeds in drawing off his army, no matter how badly shattered, the war office insists that the situation will be unchanged.

Abandoned By Russians.

Mukden, March 9.—(2:30 a. m.)—The Japanese yesterday attacked the village of Fudass northwest of the Imperial tombs and a stubborn fight followed, but the Russian advance guard was obliged to abandon the village.

During the night the Japanese attacked the village of Santass north of the Imperial tombs. The fighting continues as this dispatch is filed. The Japanese outposts have reached Hiran-shan on the south front and a heavy cannonade is in progress there.

Japs Destroyed Railroad.

With the Japanese Left Armies, Wednesday, March 8.—(Noon.)—Via Fusan, March 9.—The left armies have cut and destroyed the railroad between Mukden and Tie Pass. Details are not obtainable at present.

The Russians are in retreat over the northern roads. The left column of these armies is at Likampu, seven miles north of the Hun river and five miles west of the railroad and has had a fierce fight with a Russian force thrice its number. The Russian casualties number 10,000. The Russian center is retreating in great confusion.

Japanese Make Threats.

Tientsin, March 9.—The Japanese have requested the transportation of 450 tons of rice to Simintin. Unless the request is complied with the Japanese threaten to seize the railroad. It is believed to be a test case. The Russians' constant shipment of wheat and coal to Simintin was not interfered with and the Japanese demand impartiality. To-day they again seized the telegraph office at Simintin.

Russian Fleet Starts Back.

Paris, March 9.—A dispatch from the Temps, from Tananarivo, capital of the island of Madagascar, says the entire Russian fleet has left the waters of Madagascar on its return to Jubville, French-Somaliand.

SAFELY THROUGH MOTHERHOOD
WITHOUT PAIN.

What a wonderful message of hope and escape from suffering these words carry to that woman who is dreading the hour that shall proclaim her Motherhood. Perhaps for her it is the first time God has blessed her; with what awe and mystery and fear she contemplates the coming event which even now is casting its shadow before in the way of many painful discomforts? The hope held out in these words simply means that child-birth has been turned into an event of thanksgiving and joy, stripped of its agonies and dangers because of the learned skill of man.

TRAINMEN' STRIKE ASSUMING PROPORTIONS.

to make plans for reaching the engineers and firemen.

Would Cut Off Power.

John F. Hoffmann, secretary of the Amalgamated Association, said if the firemen and engineers in the various power houses could be induced to go out it would cut off all the power in the city which would soon bring the Interborough Company to terms.

He said he felt sure that if the engineers and firemen joined the strike, the electric switch operators employed in the big power house would follow them.

The Interborough Company's power houses at 59th street and 111st avenue and 75th street and East river are being closely guarded.

On these power houses depends the operation of the elevated and the subway systems. If it were possible to get the three hundred men employed there to quit work not a train could be moved.

Soon after the strike commenced sleeping quarters were arranged and two cooks were detailed to each power house with a staff of assistants. The employees remain at their posts day and night and are thereby being kept beyond the influence of the strikers.

An attack was made early to-day on two college youths at 145th street and Lenox avenue. The students who had been acting as strikebreakers were being severely pummeled when two girls pleaded with the crowd and succeeded in securing their release after they had promised not to return to work.

A Precious Manuscript.

There is now in St. Petersburg the oldest known MS. of the New Testament in Greek, saved from destruction by the merest chance many years ago. Crossing the hall of a convent at the foot of Mount Sinai, Constantine Tischendorf saw a basketful of parchment leaves on their way to be burned. Two baskets had already gone, he was told, and all that he could secure for himself was a small bundle of odd leaves. But the monks, now interested in the "waste paper," saved the rest from the fire, and nine years after, on a return visit to the convent, Tischendorf found that the steward had, wrapped in a red cloth, "a bulky kind of volume," which proved to be the whole of the New Testament, with parts hitherto unknown, and parts of the Old, which had long been sought. He begged the volume for the czar, and today it lies, well preserved in spite of its 1,500 years of age, among the treasures of the Russian capital—London Mail.

Testing a Horse's Eyes.

The unsuspicious farmer is often "bit" by the professional horse trader in having a horse with defective sight palmed off on him. The trader makes a John L. pass at the horse's eye with his fist, and the force of the air causes the horse to bat or blink his eyes, though he may be totally blind in one eye and weak in the other.

If the farmer will blindfold one of the animal's eyes and make gentle passes at five and ten feet from it, he can tell how strong the animal's sight is in that eye. Then blind the examined eye and go through the same process with the other.

This little hint may save you getting the "small end" of a swap.

Upon her return the cruiser will have her "free route" trial trip over the course of Newport, R. I.

The Story of a Discovery.

How many valuable inventions have been the result of pure accident, while in other cases men have puzzled their brains with study for a lifetime and brought forth nothing!

It happened one night that a big starch factory on the banks of the Liffey, near Dublin, took fire, and great puddles of starch and water were left outside.

Some calico printers who had been at all night and were quite tipsy came along toward morning, and one of them stumbled into one of the puddles. He found it so sticky that all his clothes stuck to him so fast that he had to stay in bed next morning till his wife soaked them out.

The man knew from his trade that the starch and water had formed a very powerful and valuable gum. He went back to the place of the fire and investigated, and the result was the discovery of the adhesive gum now used in sticking postage stamps and which has made many rich. But temperance lecturers need not know it—Boston Globe.

A Vivid Imagination.

A furniture dealer tells a little story that shows how some people are constituted. A lady ordered an elegant easy chair of a peculiar kind. It was made and sent to her house. She examined it carefully and critically, finally remarking that it suited her exactly, with one exception—it was too soft. She sent the chair back to be made a trifle harder. It was returned to the shop and put aside. Nothing was done to it. After a lapse of about a week the chair was sent out again. The lady again examined it and now found it too hard. She was sorry, but when she paid so much to get an article for her own comfort she wanted it just right, so she sent it back to the shop for another change. The chair was again put aside for a week or ten days and sent out for the third time without the least alteration. This time it was just right. She took the chair, paid for it and was sorry it had not suited her at first. The poor woman never knew that the chair had not been changed a particle.

Deceptions of Wild Birds.

Falcons, hawks—the largest species—can compress their features and look very slim if they think it necessary to do so. As to the owls, they can hump up into any position they think most suitable. It is useless to look for these self preserving traits in any of the family kept in zoological collections, for the birds are so accustomed to see large numbers of people passing and repassing or standing in front of them that they treat the whole matter with perfect indifference. They know that at a certain time their food will be brought them and that they are otherwise perfectly safe. Then the raptures in a wild state have a bloom on their plumage like the bloom on a bunch of grapes which is not often seen when in captivity.

An Elephant Story.

An elephant train was on its way from Lucknow to Seetapore, and one elephant, becoming lame, knelt down and refused to go on. The elephant next in the column stopped of its own accord and when driven on turned back and began without instructions to remove some part of the load. Instances of aid rendered by birds to others in distress may also be found, showing that the instinct of sympathy exists and takes form in action when the causes of the sufferings are such that the fellow bird can understand and see its way to remedy.—London Spectator.

Novel Funeral Instructions.

Curious instructions as to the manner of her burying were left behind by an old lady at Stockport, England. Her funeral, she directed, should be attended by six of the best horses of Stockport could provide, and another direction was that after the interment the funeral party should repair to the best Tory hostelry in Oldham, there to be served with the best repast the house could afford, which was to be supplied by a Tory landlord and served by Tory waiters.

Backache, "The Blues"

Both Symptoms of Organic Derangement in Women—Thousands of Sufferers Find Relief.

How often do we hear women say: "It seems as though my back would break," or "Don't speak to me, I am all out of sorts?" These significant remarks prove that the system requires attention. Backache and "the blues" are direct symptoms of an inward trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. It may be caused by diseased kidneys or some uterine derangement. Nature requires assistance and at once, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the ablest specialists agree that it is the most universally successful remedy for woman's ills known to medicine.

The following letters from Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Cotrely are among the many thousands which Mrs. Pinkham has received this year from those whom she has relieved. Surely such testimony is convincing. Mrs. J. G. Holmes, of Larimore, North Dakota, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I have suffered everything with backache and womb trouble—I let the trouble run on until my system was in such a condition that I was unable to be about, and then it was I commenced to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If I had only known how much suffering I would have saved, I should have taken it months sooner—for a few weeks' treatment made me well and strong. My backache and headaches all gone and I suffer no pain at my menstrual periods, whereas before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered intense pain."

Mrs. Emma Cotrely, 109 East 12th Street, New York City, writes:

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all gone," and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any substitute.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass., her advice is free and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it. Her advice and medicine have restored to health more than one hundred thousand women.
